- Alison Meldrew (1871-1930) -- alias "Marie Swelldon"; collected lucky charms; advertized for 2-headed coin; never found 5-leaf clover rumored in County Donegal; installed fake wall south end of attic east wing; push it aside to reach her writing room (husband disapproved).
[wrote novel]
- Anton Smyslov -- chess grandmaster; won Paris Open for 5 yrs in 1930s; bold sacrificial attacks; ate blueberry yoghurt at the board.
- Capability (1761-1817) -- gardener; fashion for crypts and memorials; real name was Willard.
- Gerard Meldrew (1898-1916) -- Roger's eldest; killed in Battle of the Somme; mother "Marie Swelldon" gave up writing soon after Gerard's death.
[on memorial of Great War 1914-18, 2nd Lt. of 19th/21st Rifles.]
- Ebenezer Meldrew (1846-1908) -- younger twin, threw career in East India Co.; went to Cape Colony, quested for legendary river; a province was once named after him.
[you thought rucksack was his from Zanbezi Expedition of 1882.]
- Helene Meldrew (1902-) -- painter and sculptress. Her relations with family broke in 20s when she married Anton and ran to Paris to study art. Returned to home in search of "the perfect blue."
[paintings in Bohemia; statuette at Lawn Ornaments]
- Isaac Meldrewe, Mad (1705-1792) -- mystic; believed in family curse; member must succeed in quest to cancel it; believed Merlin buried in back garden; believed moon is 2-discs towed by angels.
[see his portrait at Inside Cupboard]
- Jemima Meldrew -- your aunt
- Joshua Meldrewe, Sir (1710-1776) -- member of Dilletanti Society and Hell-Fire Club; chancellor to exchequer; choked to death on chicken bone; gold missing.
