"Greetings"

Start: Terminal Room
 (need to write 20-pg paper)
 - assignment (from "The Classics in the Modern Tradition" 0224-014 - on modern analogues
 of Xenophon's "Anabasis.")

3rd page

"He returns, he is called back (?)
 The loyal ones (acolytes?) make a sacrifice
 Those who survive will meet him (be absorbed? eaten?)
 They will live, yet die
 Forever will be (is?) nothing to them (to him?)

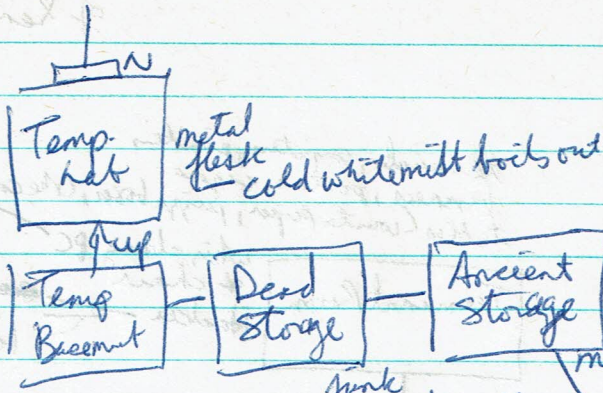

open valve
 with cutter

"His place (lair? bureau?) must be prepared his food (offerings?) must be prepared
 Call him forth (invite him?) with great power
 Only an acceptable (trustful?) sacrifice will call him forth
 He will be grateful (saturated?)"

- reveals paper

"I can no longer face what I've been doing. I can't sleep, I start at the slightest noise, & even dulling my senses w/ alcohol or drugs is no longer enough. I refuse to participate in what he is doing any more. Either he is insane, or I am insane or (which is what I fear most) the universe itself is insane. I have only one final warning: I am the only suicide, but I will not be the final death."

- flashlight in panel
 - graffiti: "Kilroy was here"

"It's you! When I gave you my key, I never suspected you'd get this far!"

"I got my suspicions about your problems with the net. I began to trace some coax, found some repeaters & bridges that weren't on the layout charts, & started following them. Anyway, here I am. That thing there, whatever it is, & those wires, are interfaced to the whole campus net. And that means it's tied into all the nets, commercial, government, even military, potentially."

"I guess I better do something. It could be a serious compromise of system integrity if this thing isn't dealt with." (pulls out wire cutters)

ask prof about LOVECRAFT

- machines in our dept have names like that. I wrote some stories about alchemy. We're got Paracelsus, Dansey, and a couple of others, too. (bored)

show stone to prof

- "Very interesting! I'll take that!" (malign)

ask prof about STONE, ASSIGNMENT, CREATOR

- uninterested

ask about GRADUATE STUDENT

- "I don't know anything about them. Tech is high pressure. Some people can't take it"

ask about LAB

- stops you from entering

Inside Dome

- you can repeat the creature with the stone

Don't try to animate the hand first yet.

Throw stone at creature. Take stone.

You can get both stone + hand to Skyscraper Roof

There, throw stone at creature; recover it outside

S of Brown Building. Don't bother the "mass" outside.

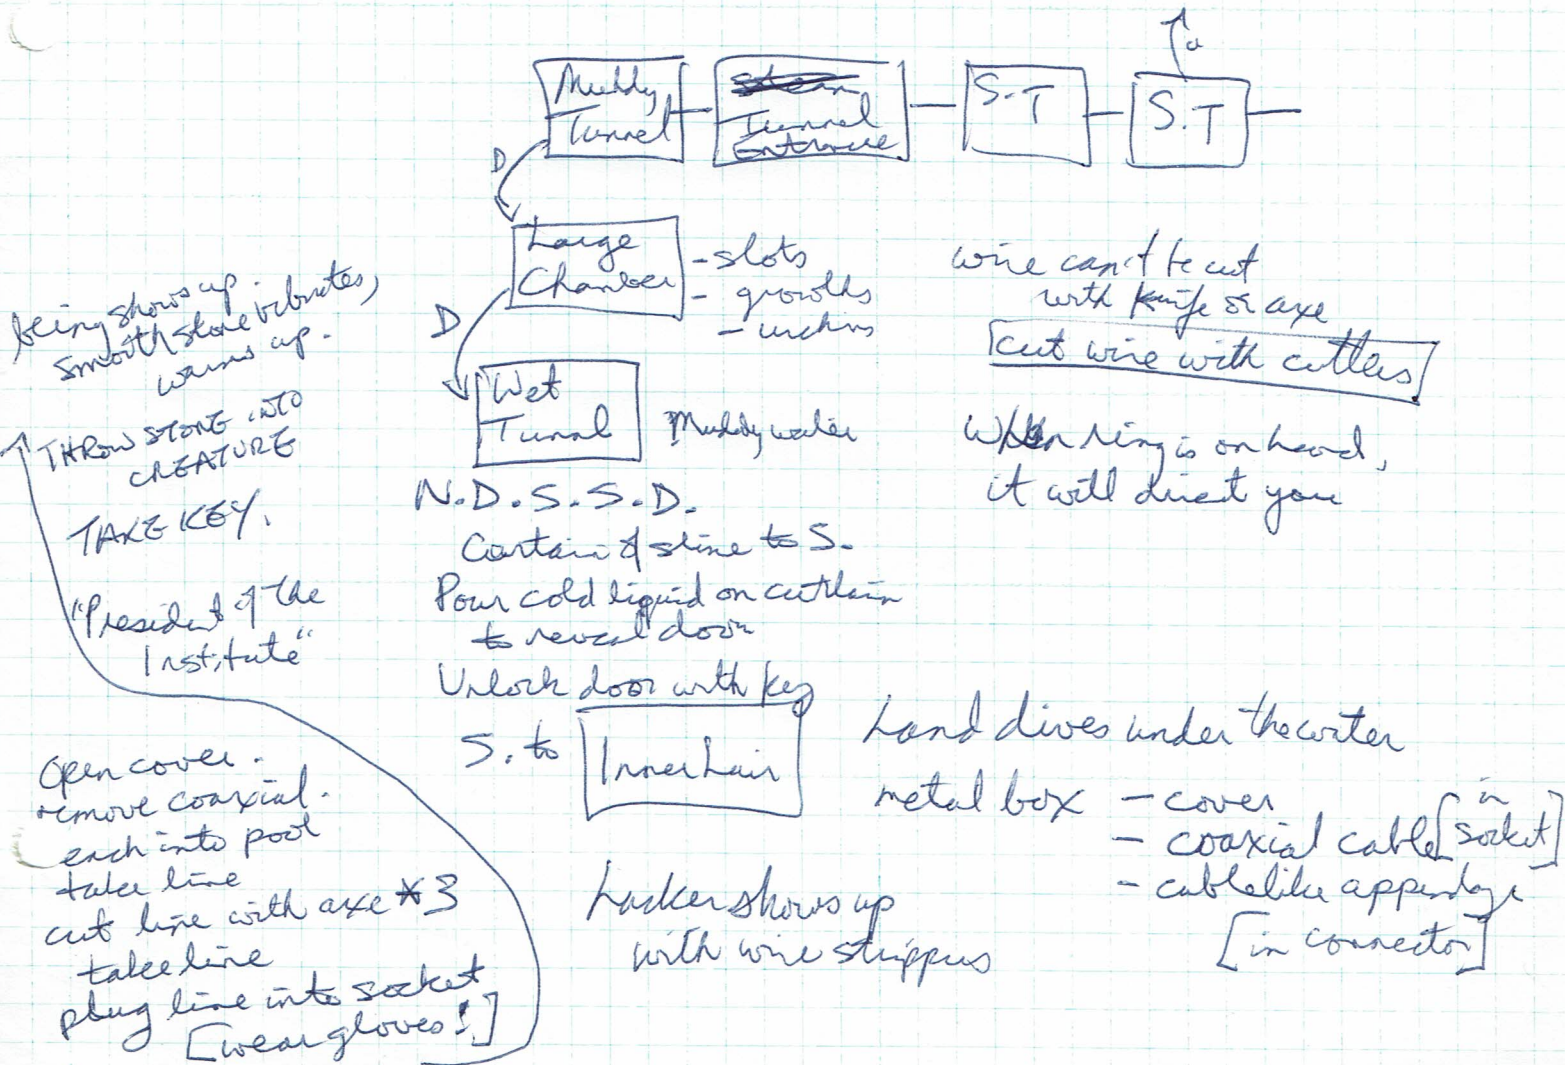

- It takes 3 turns in the vat before the hand animates properly

- ring fits both your hand & the hand.

Show hand to archer

- he'll scream & drop ~~stone~~ bolt cutter.

~~Open~~ Open valve with cutter twice. Open fully when rats there. Take dead rat.
